

ROOSEVELT ON WAR

NEW GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK'S MESSAGE.

Favors a Larger Standing Army, Modern Arms for National Guard and Other Changes.

WANTS SALARIES CUT DOWN.

CERTAIN OFFICIALS SHOULD BE DOSE AWAY WITH.

Same Subject Touches Upon by Gov. Lind of Minnesota—Gov. Plagge's Message not Read—Comments Over Senatorships.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ALBANY (N. Y.), Jan. 4.—The State Legislature convened today. In both the Assembly and the Senate the Republican caucus nominees were elected. Fred Dixon of Chautauque county was made Speaker of the Assembly and Archie Baxter of Chemung was chosen clerk. In the Senate T. E. Ellsworth of Niagara county, and James S. Whipple of Cattaraugus county were elected temporary chairman and clerk respectively. After a brief address by Lieut. Gov. Woodruff, the annual message of the Governor, Theodore Roosevelt, was read.

Gov. Roosevelt's message opens with a reference to the slavery which New York responded to the call for volunteers to engage in the war with Spain.

"We are Americans," the Governor continues, "and the interests of all Americans are equally dear to the men of the Empire State. As we were in a mighty nation, which, whether it will or not, must inevitably play a part for good or evil in the affairs of the world at large, the people of New York are no less a part of the world. The tropical islands which we have taken must not be allowed to lapse into anarchy nor to return under the sway of tyranny. War is a grim thing at best, but the war through which we have passed has left us not merely memories of victory won on land and sea, but even more blessed heritage, knowing that it was won through the highest motives for the good of others, as well as for our own national honor. Above all we are thankful that it brought home to all of us the fact that the country was indeed one when serious danger confronted it. The men from the West and the East, from the North and South, the sons of those who wore the blue and of those who wore the gray, stood shoulder to shoulder in the fight, met the dangers alike, shared the same hardships and won the same ultimate triumphs."

Gov. Roosevelt recommended a continuance of the committee appointed under the preceding State administration to examine into the causes of the decline in the commerce of New York city.

"It is essential to the State no less than the city of New York that our commercial supremacy should be maintained. With this in view the canals should be administered economically, and with an eye single to the welfare of the whole people. Any man, whether public servant or contractor, who in any way defrauds the State or perverts the business of the State to his private gain, must be dealt with as rigorously as the law will permit."

Gov. Roosevelt discussed the subject of the State labor laws at considerable length, and under this head he said:

"In dealing with the interests which have grown to group together the interests of labor, we must always keep in mind the fact that ultimately each man's salvation rests with himself, and that no amount of legislation or of combination can be supplied for the lack of industry in the native—the individual energy, honesty, and thrift and industry, yet this capacity for individual self-help and should be generally supplemented by that form of self-help that flows from organization and association, as has been shown by the careers of many of the men of the United States, and sometimes it can be supplemented by the direct action of the State itself."

"This legislation is not necessarily against the interest of capital; on the contrary, if wisely devised, it is for the benefit of both labor and capital."

In discussing the National Guard, Gov. Roosevelt says, among other things:

"It is much to be hoped that some well-thought-out plan will be devised by the national government for the use of the guard in any future war. The guard should be used as it was in the civil war, and should not be called out for foreign service. The work which the national guardsmen ought to do is to be trained, drilled, and drilled, and should be entirely from that expected from regulars."

"Many of the troops volunteered gladly for the emergency, but now that the war is over they are anxious to return. That they are not all able to return is due to the utter inadequacy of our regular army. If our regular army should be increased to 100,000 men, the necessity of retaining volunteer organizations who ought not to be retained, would disappear."

"The lamentable results of keeping the guard armed with archaic weapons utterly unfit for modern warfare was shown by the National Guard in the late contest with Spain. It is an understatement of the case to say that a single first-class regiment, armed with Krags-Jorgensen is worth three regiments armed with a low-power, single-shot, black-powder piece like the Springfield."

After mention of subjects that were of exclusively State interest, Gov. Roosevelt said:

"In New York City, even more in the State, there is need of cutting down the salaries of certain officials of forcing others to do more work and of abolishing or getting rid of others. The evils of the police system in New York have become very serious. I may find it necessary to communicate with you again on this subject."

MINNESOTA GOVERNOR.

He Recommends Enforcement of Laws and Lower Taxes.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.), Jan. 4.—The Legislature met in joint session today to hear the message of retiring Gov. Clough and of incoming Gov. John Lind. Gov. Clough devoted considerable space to the war, and the part taken in it by Minnesota, paying high tribute to the Minnesota troops, both volunteer and regular. He denounced the anti-expansion assertion that Americans were not of high enough intellect to govern any new possession. Referring to the Leach Lake Indian troubles, he sharply criticized the national government as having invited the outbreak by long-continued abuses. Chief Justice Start administered the oath to the new Governor, John Lind, who then read his inaugural message. Gov. Lind, in his inaugural message, recommends a reduction in the tax levy from one to five-tenths mills, now levied and included in the State Auditor's recommendations for the next two years to one and two-tenths mills. He holds that by a closer and more effective attention to enforcement of existing taxation laws and by means of necessary taxes on franchises and corporations, the receipts will be sufficiently large to leave a good surplus even with this reduction.

He favors an increase in the gross earnings tax on railroads, arguing that Minnesota with the 3 per cent. tax, is below the average for the States of Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois, with whose roads this State is grouped. He favors a percent tax. With the surplus he expects to receive by this means and through more economical management of State institutions, he advises the enforcement of the education interests of the State, as well as the other State institutions. He recommends the preparation and publication, on State account, of the school bonds raised in connection with the free text book system.

As to the treatment of the insane, he favors some changes along the line of the cottage system, as it might be modified by local conditions. He also speaks in favor of a board of directors to oversee and direct the management of the State institutions.

The recommendations include the substitution of salaries in place of fees in certain State offices, the bringing of telephone companies in the State under the jurisdiction of the Railroad Commission; abolish the system of issuing railroad passes to public officials; the submission of legislation to the people, and the pushing of work on the State Capitol.

Retiring Gov. Clough read his final message, which was simply a review of the past two years in State affairs.

THAT ALTON ROAD DEAL.

INTERESTING STORY ABOUT ROCKEFELLER'S INTEREST IN IT.

Want to Get Direct Entrance to Chicago for the Missouri, Kansas and Texas—Said to Have Joined a Syndicate—Gould and Vanderbilt Also In.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—The Tribune says an interesting story concerning the proposed extension of the Alton line is current in Wall street. The Rockefeller family own a controlling interest in the Missouri, Kansas and Texas road, and both John D. and William Rockefeller are on the board of directors. The line extends from Galveston to St. Louis. Its earnings have been satisfactory, and the Rockefeller family own a controlling interest in the Missouri, Kansas and Texas road, and both John D. and William Rockefeller are on the board of directors. The line extends from Galveston to St. Louis. Its earnings have been satisfactory, and the Rockefeller family own a controlling interest in the Missouri, Kansas and Texas road, and both John D. and William Rockefeller are on the board of directors.

The syndicate organized the Lincoln Construction Company, to build the St. Louis and Northern Line, but no construction has yet been undertaken. By the building of this piece of road, and by other arrangements outlined, the Rockefeller family would have been enabled to get their cars all the way to Chicago, where among other advantages, the Missouri, Kansas and Texas would have a chance to carry direct entrance into Chicago.

The syndicate organized the Lincoln Construction Company, to build the St. Louis and Northern Line, but no construction has yet been undertaken. By the building of this piece of road, and by other arrangements outlined, the Rockefeller family would have been enabled to get their cars all the way to Chicago, where among other advantages, the Missouri, Kansas and Texas would have a chance to carry direct entrance into Chicago.

Having thus arranged for a satisfactory and immediate extension of the road from St. Louis to Chicago, they naturally were not so anxious as they had been to promote the construction of the line from Peoria northward, and it is said that they have within the last few days withdrawn from the Adams-Budge syndicate, not, however, without a protest on the part of their associates. A representative of Mr. Adams said yesterday: "We do not know that the Missouri, Kansas and Texas is in the Chicago and Alton syndicate, but we do affirm that the Rockefeller family are interested in the St. Louis and Northern Line, and the construction of that line will go on just the same."

The Chicago and Alton, it is said, will enter its purchase agreement, managed by a joint board of directors representing the several interests participating in its acquisition. The syndicate was formed by the purchase of C. H. Harriman, who has represented in the negotiations with the Alton's owners more especially, the interests of the Union Pacific, and the Chicago and North Western. The Vanderbilts will be interested in the Alton management, though their large holding in the Union Pacific, it is not indeed, as it is reported, through the presence of the Michigan Central as one of the controlling group of railroads, the Rockefeller family will have a share in the conduct of the Alton, through Missouri, Kansas and Texas; and the Goulds will have a corresponding interest through their Missouri Pacific holdings. It is believed that the taking over of the Alton marks the first occasion on which these three great financial interests—Vanderbilt, Rockefeller and Gould—have joined forces in railway direction.

GOLD PRODUCTION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Hon. George E. Roberts, the director of the mint, has received from the officials and agents of the bureau, the preliminary estimates upon the production of gold in the several producing States and Territories of the United States for the calendar year 1898. These estimates, although subject to revision, are deemed to be approximately correct. Nearly all of the States show an increased production.

Colorado maintains and increases its lead by a larger addition to its production than any other State. The product in California was considerably reduced by prevailing droughts, which affected the output of the placers, but increase in gold mining has slightly more than offset this reduction. Returns are given below and completed, with the final estimates for the production of the same States and Territories in 1897:

TO OUST BRINSMAID.

SUCH A MOTION FILED BEFORE THE OHIO SUPREME COURT.

Testimony in the Standard Oil Case not Excluded on Account of It. Master Commissioner and the Company Will File an Answer. Plain Talk.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CLEVELAND (O.), Jan. 4.—The taking of testimony in the Standard Oil case was not resumed today before Master Commissioner Brinsmaid. The case was not resumed, it is due to the fact that the State Attorney-General has filed a motion before the Ohio Supreme Court to oust Brinsmaid from his position as master commissioner. This motion is set for hearing before the Supreme Court tomorrow.

Mr. Brinsmaid has received the following telegram from Atty.-Gen. Monnett: "Can't resume the case Thursday. Haven't any money to pay expenses." Not only will Commissioner Brinsmaid file an answer to Monnett's ouster motion, but the Standard Oil Company will do so as well, so Mr. Brinsmaid said today. The commissioner completed his answer to the Attorney-General's motion to oust him today. In brief it sets forth the following:

"First—It is not true the Attorney-General was refused the books of the liquidation trustee in New York. On the contrary, the books were produced for the inspection of Mr. Kincaid, the attorney-general's associate counsel, and myself, copies were taken therefrom and are attached to the testimony now on file with the clerk of the Supreme Court."

"Second—As to his having no further means of continuing the case, I refer the court to session laws, volume 89, page 409, in regard to the powers of the emergency board which has full power to appropriate any deficiency in any department."

"Third—The commissioners were appointed June 24, 1898. The attorney-general notified the committee of the board that the committee would not be ready until September to take up the case. By an agreement between Monnett and Kline, with which I had nothing to do, the case was finally set for October 10."

"Fourth—The second order of the court requiring Brinsmaid to produce the books was made December 6, and the commissioners were requested to proceed with all convenient speed to examine the books under the direction of the attorney-general. The attorney-general made no request until December 20 to have the case set for December 24. The commissioner leaves it to the court to decide as to who has been responsible for the delay in the taking of testimony."

"Fifth—The attorney-general, in one of his reasons, says: 'It will appear manifest to the court from the record that the referee has yielded to the applications for continuance and delays over which he has no control.' The commissioner replies that the record shows no such thing, and, on the contrary, the facts show that the attorney-general himself is responsible for the delays."

BERLIN EXCITED.

Alleged Statements of Bismarck's Just Published at Cologne.

[A. F. EARLY'S LONDON REPORT.]

BERLIN, Jan. 4.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Much comment has been excited here by the publication in Das Neue Jahrbuch at Cologne of alleged conversations between the late Prince Bismarck and his intimate friend and confidant, Herr Lothar Bucher. In one of these, which fairly teems with pungent Bismarckian expressions, Bismarck deals with the conditions of Austria and the probable fate of the Austrian empire. He expressed the opinion that Austria had ceased to be a great power, and that her days were numbered, though it was unlikely that he would live to see the collapse. Still, he said, it might come sooner than people imagined. Regarding the alliance he concluded for Germany with Austria, he said he never doubted that Germany was giving more than she was receiving, and that the inequality of the bargain would increase as time progressed. The Austrian army was lost when politics entered its ranks, and Austria would gradually become disintegrated by the process of decay. Bismarck said he hoped his successors would realize this in time and procure a substitute for the Austrian alliance. Finally, he declared, that the most foolish thing Austrian statesmen could do would be to dissolve the alliance with Germany."

Wiped Out by Fire.

[ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) Jan. 4.—

[Exclusive Dispatch.] A disastrous fire occurred at the Albemarle Mine, near Bland, N. M., today, and the large general mercantile store of the Albemarle Coal Co. and the Albemarle Hotel are now in ashes. The property destroyed was owned by a party of Boston capitalists, who recently purchased some of the most valuable mines in the Coihiti mining district. The loss is estimated at $15,000, with no insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

To Proceed to Guam.

BOSTON, Jan. 4.—Lieut. Col. Pope, United States military commander, has been ordered to proceed to Guam Island, in the Pacific, to command the land naval forces at that new station. First Lieutenant Charles G. Long, United States military commander, also of this yard, will accompany him. The detail of marines to go out to the new station will hardly be more than a captain's guard.

JAW-BREAKER BILLY.

Breaks Out Again in Illinois, Talks Some and Then Some.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.), Jan. 4.—William Jennings Bryan arrived here this afternoon. At 8 o'clock this evening he addressed an immense audience in Central Music Hall, being introduced by Congressman-elect Benjamin F. Caldwell. Bryan spoke for an hour, touching the question of annexation, Bryan said:

"The party which was willing to oppose the gold standard because it was wrong, ought to be great enough to oppose an English colonial system because it is wrong. It is astonishing that a man living in this age of the world, living in the United States, should uphold the doctrines of securing land by conquest. Jefferson was against it long years ago. Bismarck was against it in 1890, and a year ago last December, the President of the United States sent a message to Congress and in that message he said: 'I speak not of forcible annexation, because that is not to be thought of; under our code of morality that would be criminal aggression.'"

"My friends, there is a great moral question involved, declared so by your President; a code of morality is in question, and according to that code forcible annexation is criminal aggression."

SWEAR BY BRYAN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.), Jan. 4.—The Democratic State Central Committee tonight declared itself for the Chicago platform, and for William J. Bryan. Bryan was present and made an address, thanking the committee for the personal compliment and congratulating the organization on its declaration in favor of free and unlimited coinage. The adoption of the resolution endorsing silver and Bryan by an unanimous vote was something of a surprise, for it was expected that several of the members of the committee with leanings toward the gold standard would oppose any declaration in favor of the platform of 1896.

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

Evidently the rain we had on New Year's day is going to have a chance to soak into the ground before more shall come.

The people of Jerome, Ariz., have suddenly found the sulphur fumes, which they have deplored as the chief drawback to the place, to be of peculiar value. While there is a small-pox scare abroad in Arizona the fumes of the sulphur are such a powerful disinfectant that Jerome is regarded as immune.

Fullerton is apparently a trifle jealous of Azusa and Whittier, because those two towns have become incorporated. These two towns, the Fullerton Tribune remarks, "are not as large as Fullerton, but they are enterprising. Fullerton should be incorporated at an early date."

The Corona Courier, published at Corona, Riverside county, has met with such success as a weekly, and its publishers, Webster & Bowen, have won such confidence among the residents of Corona, that a movement is on foot to organize a stock company with a view to starting a daily edition at a not distant date.

Santa Barbara has either a very clever girl forger or a very indifferent bank cashier. Lola Gardner, a servant girl aged 18 years, is under arrest there for forgery, and has confessed the crime, having filled out checks and signed to them the name of J. W. Cooper, her former employer, and had them cashed, not once, but two or three times, at the bank at which Mr. Cooper does business. The forgery was not discovered until Mr. Cooper received the cancelled checks back from the bank.

Phoenix is solving the tramp problem pretty successfully, so far as that city is concerned, by practically the same method as that frequently advocated in this column, namely, settling the vagrants to work. The Herald says the Salt River Valley is being visited by a large number, but the city is kept tolerably free from them, as they are promptly put to work on the streets when found within the city limits. The matter of putting barred canvas uniforms on them is under consideration and will probably be put into effect.

It is about time for the enactment of a law limiting the number of game birds or fowl that a man may kill in one day. The best gun clubs limit the bag that members may make, and also restrict shooting to certain days in the week. Reports of the performances of so-called "sportsmen" who infect Coronado prove the necessity for protection of ducks from game hogs and pot shooters. Three men visiting Coronado killed 328 ducks in one day, and brag that they would kill more but for the rain. And recently False Bay was covered with dead ducks killed wantonly by "sportsmen" of the same stripe. The sport will not last long at this rate.

Of the numerous elaborate New Year's numbers issued by the press this year, none has been received at this office will be more valuable to the region in which it is published than that of the San Diego Union. The descriptive matter is well written, and comprehensive, embracing information concerning the resources of San Diego county, the building record of the past year, public buildings, fortifications and numerous other features. The cover is a handsome one, but is "useful as well as ornamental," the first page being occupied with a map, in colors, of the western portion of the county, and the last page with a similar map covering the north Pacific Ocean and showing San Diego's advantageous position with reference to trans-Pacific and Nicaragua Canal commerce.

Nicaragua Canal Committee.
The local committee of seventy business men appointed some days since to canvass for funds for the expenses of a delegation to go to Washington in the interest of the Nicaragua Canal, will meet today at 3 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, to take up the work, it having been found desirable to do nothing during the holidays, when business men were too busy to give attention to the matter.

New Trial Granted.
In the Federal Circuit Court yesterday the motion for an appeal of the case of Mrs. Catherine A. Roller vs. the Denver and Rio Grande Railway Company, was granted. Mrs. Roller was granted damages a few days ago for injuries sustained in a wreck on that road. The case will now go to the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals for final decision.

FROM CAPT. STEERE.

EXPERIENCES ENCOUNTERED ON THE WAY TO MANILA.

A Sailor's Burial at Sea—An Active Volcano Throws Its Ashes on the Ship When Thirty Miles Away—Resources of the Islands.

Capt. Steere, of Steere's Battery, has written to a friend in Los Angeles an account of his trip to Manila, which is interesting as outlining the experiences he met with those who visit our farther possessions. The following are extracts from the letter, which was in the form of a diary:

"ON BOARD TRANSPORT SENA-TOLU, Nov. 7, 1898.
"This morning it was Sunday, but at about 10:15 o'clock a.m. we crossed the 180 deg. of west long., and then it was Monday. When we return we will have two days of the same day of the week when we strike the 180th meridian.

"We had a burial at sea this morning, just as we passed the meridian, but thank God it was not a soldier, but one of the ship's crew. The chaplain read the burial service of the church, and the body was committed to the deep, the ship's bell tolling and a bugler sounding 'taps.'"

"We should arrive at Manila in about two weeks more. We have not seen a paper to tell us of any news from the outside world since the 22nd of October. Of course, at Manila we will get Hongkong papers every few days, and it would not surprise me to see an American paper started in Manila, so we will have a little daily news of what is going on at home.

"The battery is getting on nicely; no serious cases of illness since starting. We had inspection of arms, keeping themselves and their quarters clean, which means that there is not likely to be any serious illness among them. We had inspection of arms this morning, and found them in very good condition. I finally secured the stateroom on deck for five noncommissioned officers. The five ranking sergeants have it.

"November 16. Yesterday morning about 4 o'clock the captain of the ship called me to get up and see an active volcano on Ladrone de Pajaro, the northernmost of the Ladrone. We were about ten or twelve miles distant when I reached the volcano. The sight was a novel one. The smoke pouring from the mountain top was illuminated by the ruddy fires in the crater below, and made a landmark that could be seen at sea, at night, for a distance of nearly forty miles. We came up in the wake of the smoke from the volcano, and its cinders began coming aboard when we were nearly thirty miles away. The island itself is very small, not more than three or four miles in length and half that in width.

"The worst end of the trip is now over so far as distance is concerned. I hope we will not run into any rough weather, for if we do the men will all have to go below, the hatches will have to be chained down and the resultant foul air and cramped quarters would be a distressing hardship for the men to bear.

"November 17. Lieutenant Wells's lecture was very interesting. Dr. Ladd gives a lecture this afternoon, on gunshot wounds and their treatment.

"We had to slow up again today, as we have had to do every day for the Valencia, which is two knots per hour slower than the Sanator. The trip will be just eight days longer on her account. Shall be glad to get ashore for the poor men's sake; the confinement and cramped-up quarters are beginning to tell on them, but we have no serious cases of sickness. The battery is doing better than it has ever done. Have one man in the hospital aboard, suffering from malaria, but he is coming on nicely and will be out by the time we arrive.

"Sunday, November 18. In about another hour we will be upon the China Sea heading south. We came across from Honolulu on the 20th parallel of latitude. The rain is just boiling down. It will be hard on the men, for they will have to go below to keep out of the wet. I hope this will be their last night aboard.

"Sunday, 7 p.m. We are in the China Sea all right. Are paying no more attention to the Valencia, but just digging out of the ship is worth. The barometer has been falling right along. There is a stiff sea on and the rain coming down in torrents. If the weather gets any worse we will reach Manila tomorrow evening. All hands are happy at exchanging a boundless expanse of sea for a glimpse of terra firma.

"I have inspection in heavy marching order tomorrow at 1:30 p.m., to see that everyone is in shape to march off the ship.

"I moved one of my sick sergeants from up on deck to a stateroom below, occupied by some of my other non-coms, firing one of them below, as there was danger of the sick boy catching cold.

"8 p.m. We are in heavy weather. Ship is moving slowly. Spray comes in my stateroom once in a while. It may be only a squall. I hope so, on account of the men.

"9 p.m. It is blowing a squall. I was on the hurricane deck a while ago, and the spray came up there and stung like a whip. Have been down in the men's quarters. All hands have turned in. Had to take down the wind sail that supplies them with air. It is close and hot for the poor fellows, but I think heaven this will be their last night at sea.

"Monday, 9:45 p.m. Everything went in our favor today, and we entered the bay at 5:30 o'clock p.m. As we approached the city of Manila the launch from the guard boat Raleigh boarded us, when we were about a league off, and an officer told the captain of our ship not to anchor between the Raleigh and the city. So the order 'Let go anchor' was given, and just a little before eight bells (eight o'clock) we came to a standstill about five miles from the city. The officer that boarded us gave us the glorious election news. This is November 21, and it is all news to us. I saw the lights of our probable station, Cavite, as we came to the harbor. The country we passed approaching Manila is beautiful in the extreme.

"Now, Lieut. Hayne, who was a professor at the State University at Berkeley, heard of our arrival. We were mighty glad to see each other. As soon as the inspection was taken care of he will be sent out to report on the agricultural resources of the island. He is well pleased with his prospects, and says the island is rich beyond compare; that gold is plentiful, and there are millions of dollars in bank right now, waiting for the United States to take possession of the islands for investment. We remain aboard today, as all hands have to be vaccinated before leaving the ship."

What's in a Name?

The man who sits down to a little game of "high five," holds the king, queen, jack and ten, makes a good bid, gets it and then gets "put in the hole," suddenly discovers that his neighbor's ace has done him up. Some dealers are making the same kind of a bid for business in hats. They bank on a hat with the maker's name in gilt letters at $5.00, while we offer the same grade of hat exactly, without the name, for $3.00. It's the same with neckwear. An Ascot, Teck, Put or Four-in-Hand, with the maker's name stamped in gold letters sells for $1.00, while if you come here you'll find the same quality, without the name, marked 50c. We don't charge you $5.00 for $3.00 hats, nor $2.50 for $1.50 ones. We save you money on every purchase, because we are satisfied with a little less profit than other folks, as we do a spot cash business. Why not pay cash and trade with us?

FRUIT AND FLOWERS.
They will be the features of a Masonic Fancy Festival.

The Masonic order is preparing to receive the Pansy Fruit and Flower Festival, which was so great an attraction a few years ago. This will be held in Hazard's Pavilion early in April, and will be for the benefit of the Southern California Masonic Home. There will be a special day set apart for each of the neighboring towns, and it is thought that the date set is early enough to attract a large number of eastern people, who will spend the winter in Southern California, and that it will thus be a notable advertising feature of the Land of Sunshine.

PROBLEM SOLVED.

NEW SCHEME OF GOVERNMENT IN OPERATION.

Patriots and Statesmen Supplied in Job Lots by a Los Angeles Mercantile Concern—Commissioners Kept in Stock.

The head of the secretary of the League for Promotion of National Galety was bulging with large and portentous ideas yesterday, and he had to work off some of his congested wisdom through his derby or take chances of an explosion. He got the secretary of the late League for Gilt-edged City Government into a corner, where he couldn't back out, and opened up on him.

"Look here," he said, "you fellows are impractical dreamers and rainbow chasers. Why don't you get down to earth and begin your reforms with material right under your nose. You go mauling along with your eyes fixed upon the unattainable, and break your shins stumbling over golden opportunities."

"Now I don't suppose it ever struck you that the simplest solution of the problem of government is being worked out quietly and unostentatiously right here in Los Angeles. Of course not. None of you amateur statesmen seem to have noticed it. Why, man, there's an outfit on Broadway that turns out patriots and statesmen as a hatchery turns out salmon fry, and you don't know it. Of course, you don't; you're figuring out a scheme for electing the dog-pelter by registered mail, and that takes all your time."

"Now let me tell you that the sovereign remedy for all the ills that beset cities, States and nations is like all great things, perfectly simple. It may be called for short: 'Government by the Los Angeles Furniture Company.' This plan was inaugurated in a quiet, modest way some years ago, and beginning so it did not attract much attention. The Los Angeles Furniture Company first turned out a Governor of California. Its facilities for manufacturing statesmen were crude at first, but allowances must be made for first attempts. Even your league hasn't got very far along toward realization of its iridescent dream; you haven't produced anything but a weak imitation of a city bosslet yet."

"Then the promoters of the plan for government by the Los Angeles Furniture Company in the country in safe positions was the production of a real live quartermaster of United States Volunteers. His training in the line of wrestling with wove-wire mattresses, rocking chairs, crills and bed elms fitted him admirably for martial duties, and it is said that he can set up camp cots and mess tables quicker than any regular in the service."

"Statesmen are now thicker in the Los Angeles Furniture Company than moths in a Brussels carpet. In fact, I've heard they're thicker than fiddlers in Lower Sacramento. They've got up signs in the office reading: 'Statesmen made while you wait.' The city needed a park commissioner; sent over an order to the Los Angeles Furniture Company. The furniture company delivered one at the City Hall in ten minutes. Yesterday the Council found itself shy one peace commissioner, rang up the Los Angeles Furniture Company, found that it carried police commissioners in stock and ordered one c.o.d. He was sent over in the original package, unboxed and found to be slightly damaged, but was accepted with rebate."

"This is only a starter. The Los Angeles Furniture Company is prepared to fill all orders promptly. If the city needs a library trustee, the L. A. F. Co. has a porter all ready for the job. Police wanted? L. A. F. Co. has book-keepers to burn. Pound-master? There's the president of the concern ready to step right into the breach. Now the quiet jump from Governor to Poundmaster, but great things often come from little beginnings."

"Our league is so well convinced of the merits and advantages of this new idea in government that we are going to have Senator Bulla introduce, by request, a bill to abandon the clumsy elective system and turn the government over to the Los Angeles Furniture Company. No doubt that a very fair brand of United States Senator could be turned out by the company on a rush order."

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

Dr. Morrison Re-elected as County Health Inspector.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday determined to place $2500 worth of insurance on the new insane ward of the County Hospital, the architects having reported that the new ward had been completed by the contractors to their satisfaction.

On motion of Supervisor Field $300 was ordered transferred from the general road fund to the Elizabeth Lake road district fund, in order that grades be repaired, etc.

The clerk was instructed to notify the clerk of the City of Austin that all the expenses in connection with the incorporation of the city must be paid by that city.

Supervisor Hanley was authorized to have the La Cañada bridge placed in a state of repair.

When the board proceeded to elect a stock inspector for the ensuing year, Dr. W. E. D. Morrison, who held the office last year, was placed in nomination by Supervisor Wirsching, and Dr. Ward B. Rowland by Supervisor Longden. Morrison received three votes, and was declared elected.

T. C. Tilghman was appointed by the board to be director of the Big Rock Creek irrigation district, vice A. C. Stephenson, resigned.

The White Fair Undermuslins are Just Like Home-Made

Such dainty laces and such pretty styles, such ample proportions and reasonable prices. Yes, so reasonable that you'll wonder how the material alone could be bought for so little. The throngs of buyers show their appreciation, many women have selected pieces by the dozen while others bought freely of the more expensive sorts. Many sales of $25.00 to $50.00 have been made. All this goes to prove that Los Angeles women are not slow in taking advantage of an opportunity that comes only once a year. The White Fair knows no competition, every garment is attractive and prices are doubly attractive.

White Fair Linens.

Our linen buyer said: "If the women only knew what values were waiting for them the whole store couldn't hold the crowd." He is enthusiastic and overflowing with satisfaction.

"Just feel that dollar-eight damask, you never saw anything better at dollar-fifty," he said, and we heartily concur. We never owned such intrinsic values. Our shelves never contained so many pieces, so much linen elegance and such choice patterns. You must come in order to fairly judge this unusual happening. Cold type can only point the way. We promise satisfaction.
